“A tale of two cities”

Ravenna and Venice

Dr Warren Cairns,

A Senior Researcher for the Italian National Research Council, Institute for Polar Sciences, who is based in Venice, will join us on “ZOOM” to explore the effects of climate change from an Italian perspective.

Thursday 19 January 2023 at 7.30pm
Meeting to be held on “Zoom”

Dr Cairns will be exploring what has been done and, more widely, what could be the future effects of global warming and if there is anything that can be done to mitigate its effects.

This promises to be a very interesting and informative talk on what is a critical issue for us all.

Wishing everyone a very Happy New Year!
